All of these meetings will take place at the American College of Surgeons, 633 North Saint Clair Street, 28th floor in downtown Chicago. Here is the schedule and the guest speakers:

- Thursday, March 16 – Tamer Ghanem MD, PhD from Henry Ford Cancer Institute, Detroit
- Monday, April 17 – Reeza Rahbar, DMD MD from Harvard Medical School, Boston
- Tuesday, May 2 – speaker to be confirmed shortly
- Wednesday, May 17 – Lederer-Pierce Research Forum . . . research paper presentations by Chicago area residents

The program for these conferences typically will feature a guest speaker and perhaps a panel discussion of relevant cases. The schedule for the evening generally is as follows:

Companies wishing to display at all four meetings remaining this academic year can do so for a flat fee of $5,000 (amounts to a $1,000 discount). All exhibitors will be provided a tabletop display in the exhibit and reception area, a list of attendees, and placement of your company logo on the CL&O Society's website. In addition, we will recognize exhibiting companies during the program so all attendees are reminded about your participation and support for the Society.
